SUN-A corporation, hereby announces changes made in August 31, 2015 in its parent company as well as controlling shareholder.

1. Details

	Before the change	After the change
Shareholder: %	Hiroshima Innovation Network: 97.6%	Kuriyama Corporation: 97.6%

2. Background

Since April 2013 when Current major shareholder, Hiroshima Innovation Network took the major share, they have been supporting SUN-A for its healthy growth in accordance with the expanding the market of major product, Urea quality sensor.

Kuriyama Corporation, who is currently supplying a various product related to construction machine, agricultural machine and passenger car application, is interested in participating SUN-A as share shareholder.

In fact, Kuriyama currently has a very significant partner as the distributor of our product and it is judged that the participating SUN-A as a shareholder may contribute a synergetic business enhancement with their other products.

SUN-A, in turn, believes that new share holder's current asset of business relationship with potential customers as well as its sales network spread all over the world will accelerate our product penetration into the growing market of our sensor, in terms of volume and area where we are not in touch yet.
